

Contents

Introduction	1
1. Economy and Environment in Sixteenth-Century Promotional Literature	12
2. “God Sells Us All Things for Our Labour”: John Smith’s Generall Historie	29
3. “Wonder-Working Providence” of the Market	50
4. “Admirable Oeconomy”: Robert Beverley’s Calculus of Compensation	74
5. Ideologies of Farming: Crèvecoeur, Jefferson, Rush, and Brown	97
6. Cherokee “Improvements” and the Removal Debate	122
7. “Co-Workers with Nature”: Cooper, Thoreau, and Marsh	153
Notes	177
Works Cited	203
Index	215
Acknowledgments	223