

Contents

	Acknowledgments	vii
One	Central Europe in the 1930s How American Women Writers Developed a Political Ethics	I
Two	Contextual Ethics or Emotional Fidelity Kay Boyle in the Austrian Mountains	17
Three	Winter in Berlin Katherine Anne Porter's Politics of Emotion	31
Four	Deep Expatriatism Kay Boyle as Frenchwoman	44
Five	Memories of Heidelberg Jean Stafford's Multiple Selves	60
Six	The Moral Act Lillian Hellman Fights Fascists in the Parlor	85
Seven	Occupying Germany Kay Boyle and Language	107
Eight	Anatomies of Evil and Redemption Contextualizing Porter's Politics and Boyle's Germany	125
Nine	Women's Literature and the Ethic of Care	149
	Notes	165
	Bibliography	175
	Index	181