

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Chapter One
Introduction: A Sense of Selves	1
Chapter Two
“The Peculiar Combination of Elements Long Familiar”: Willa Cather	27
Chapter Three
“Fiction Was Another Way of Telling the Truth”: Gertrude Stein	81
Chapter Four
“The Mixedness of Things”: Nella Larsen	133
Chapter Five
Conclusion: Other Countries, Other Romances	179
Afterword
“A Time to Every Purpose Under Heaven”	189
Notes	193
Bibliography	215
Index	227