

Contents

1	An Heirloom Nose	15
2	Before and After 1914	28
3	War in a Classic Setting	40
4	Why he wrote The Secret Battle	50
5	Convoy Alarms – and Excursions	57
6	Pen v Wig	63
7	'Across the Pond'	68
8	An Invitation from 'Mr Punch'	76
9	A Man with a 'Happy Mind'	84
10	His 'Not Inconsiderable' Influence	91
11	The Thames, a Ruling Passion	98
12	'Life is Sweet, however Disgusting'	109
13	The Archbishop was Amused	122
14	A True Sense of Awe	135
15	The Ayes Have It	143
16	A Row with the Buchmanites	151
17	Master of HMS Water Gipsy	161
18	To the Navy, a Sad Farewell	183
19	The Hampden of Hammersmith	196
20	His Last 'Who Goes Home?'	210
21	Prospect of a Peerage	224
22	'I am Increasingly Worried'	237
23	'I Object!'	247
24	An Invitation from the Poet Laureate	264
25	So Miscellaneous a Life	275
26	'Nothing is Wasted, Nothing is in Vain'	290