

Contents

PREFACE	vii
ABBREVIATIONS	xi
1. A Question of Time	1
2. Policing Time: The Nineteenth-Century State and Working Hours	21
3. Challenging the Liberal Economy of Time, 1886–1912	52
4. Family Time and Consumption Time: Shop Hours and the Origins of the Weekend	79
5. Efficiency and Reform: Work Science, the State, and Time, 1890–1918	103
6. Labor Insurgency, International Reform, and the Origins of the Eight-Hour Day, 1917–1924	129

7.
Worktime, Growth, and an International Labor Standard	150
8.
Meanings of Free Time: Leisure and Class in the 1920s	171
9.
Labor and Rationalization	194
10.
The Right to Time in the Twentieth Century	215
APPENDIX	233
NOTES	237
INDEX	323	