

CONTENTS

I.	EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION	I
II.	THE CONTINUING VISION: A PERSONAL RETROSPECT An introductory essay by Charles Raven, sometime Regius Professor of Divinity in the University of Cam- bridge.	9
III.	THE MOLECULAR ORGANIZATION OF LIFE A. R. Peacocke, Lecturer in Biochemistry and Fellow of St. Peter's College in the University of Oxford. Comments by Lady Kathleen Oldfield and Geoffrey Rushworth, with reply by Dr. Peacocke.	17
IV.	NATURAL SELECTION AND HUMAN NATURE David Lack, Director of the Edward Grey Institute of Field Ornithology and Fellow of Trinity College in the University of Oxford. Comments by J. R. Smythies, with reply by Dr. Lack.	40
V.	AN AGNOSTIC VIEW OF EVOLUTION John Maynard Smith, Professor of Zoology, Univer- sity of Sussex. Comments by J. W. Cole, David Lack, Lady Kath- leen Oldfield, J. R. Smythies and C. W. M. Whitty, with reply by Professor Maynard Smith.	49
VI.	ANOTHER VIEW OF EVOLUTION Discussion note by Sir Alister Hardy, Emeritus Professor and Hon. Fellow of Merton and Exeter Colleges in the University of Oxford. Comments by David Lack.	74
VII.	LIFE AND THE CONDITIONS OF EXISTENCE C. F. A. Pantin, Professor of Zoology and Fellow of Trinity College in the University of Cambridge. Comments by David Lack and Charles Raven.	83
VIII.	ETHICS AND THE THEORY OF EVOLUTION A. M. Quinton, University Lecturer in Philosophy and Fellow of New College, Oxford. Comments by J. W. Cole and David Lack, with reply by Mr. Quinton.	107

CONTENTS

IX.	THE NERVOUS SYSTEM AND BEHAVIOUR IN ANIMALS Geoffrey Rushworth, Lecturer in Clinical Neuro-physiology, Department of Neurology, University of Oxford and Fellow in Medicine, Jesus College, Oxford. Comments by Lady Kathleen Oldfield.	132
X.	CHANGES IN CONDUCT AND PERSONALITY FOLLOWING LOCALIZED BRAIN LESIONS C. W. M. Whitty, Consultant Neurologist and Clinical Lecturer in Neurology in the University of Oxford. Comments by J. W. Cole and H. H. Price, with reply by Dr. Whitty.	139
XI.	SOME RECENT THEORIES OF MIND J. R. Smythies, Senior Lecturer in Psychological Medicine in the University of Edinburgh. Comments by Kathleen Oldfield, H. H. Price and A. M. Quinton, with reply by Dr. Smythies.	150
XII.	BIOLOGY AND PERSONALISM Discussion note by Dr. F. H. Cleobury. Comments by John Maynard Smith.	164
XIII.	BIOLOGY AND PERSONALITY: SOME PHILOSOPHICAL REFLECTIONS Ian Ramsey, Nolloth Professor of the Philosophy of the Christian Religion and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. Comments by J. W. Cole, John Maynard Smith, Lady Kathleen Oldfield, A. M. Quinton, Geoffrey Rushworth and J. R. Smythies, with reply by Professor Ramsey.	174
XIV.	RETROSPECT Discussion note by H. H. Price, Emeritus Fellow of New College and formerly Wykeham Professor of Logic in the University of Oxford.	207
	INDEX	211