
Elections and Voters in Britain

Third Edition

David Denver
Christopher Carman and Robert Johns

Contents

List of Tables and Figures	vii
Preface to the Third Edition	x
1 Studying British Elections	1
Why study elections?	3
Studying elections	6
Aggregate and survey data compared	15
Theories of voting	20
2 Turnout: Why People Vote (or Don't)	28
Turnout variations over time	30
Turnout variations across constituencies	33
Survey studies of non-voting	39
Conclusion: what is to be done about low turnout?	50
3 Alignment and Dealignment	53
Class and party	54
Other social influences on voting	58
Partisan alignment	61
Dealignment	65
The causes of dealignment	72
The consequence of dealignment: electoral volatility	82
4 Issues, Policies and Performance	90
Issue voting	91
Position issues, policies and ideology	96
Valence issues and performance	104
The economy and voting	108
Conclusion: 'performance politics'	121
5 Party Image and Party Leaders	123
Party image	124
The content of party images	125

Party images and party choice	131
The sources of party image	133
Party leaders	136
Why leadership matters (more)	138
How voters evaluate party leaders	140
Evidence of party leader effects	144
Conclusion	148
6 Campaigning and the Mass Media	151
National campaigning	151
The mass media	160
Television	165
The national press	169
Opinion polls	174
Constituency campaigning	180
The new media campaign	184
Conclusion	186
7 Electoral Geography and Electoral Systems	187
Regional variations	187
Urban–rural variations	191
Explaining regional variations	193
Constituency variations	195
Tactical voting	201
Localities and neighbourhoods	203
Electoral systems in Britain	206
Criticisms of first past the post	208
In defence of first past the post	211
Voting under different electoral systems	213
Conclusion	215
8 Elections and Party Choice in Contemporary Britain	217
Explaining party choice	218
Explaining election outcomes	231
Conclusion	241
Glossary of Statistical and Technical Terms	244
References	250
Name Index	263
Subject Index	268