

Contents

EDITOR'S PREFACE	vii
------------------	-----

Legal philosophy today—an introduction	I
ROBERT S. SUMMERS, University of Oregon School of Law

PART ONE

CONCEPTUAL STUDIES

Is law a system of rules?	25
RONALD M. DWORKIN, Yale Law School
Social justice	61
A. M. HONORÉ, New College, Oxford
Punishment for thoughts	95
HERBERT MORRIS, U.C.L.A. School of Law
The concept of legal liberty	121
GLANVILLE WILLIAMS, Jesus College, Cambridge
Intention and purpose in law	146
ANTHONY KENNY, Balliol College, Oxford

PART TWO

RATIONAL JUSTIFICATION

On processes for resolving disputes	167
J. R. LUCAS, Merton College, Oxford
Morals and the criminal law	183
GRAHAM HUGHES, New York University School of Law
Principled decision-making and the Supreme Court	208
M. P. GOLDING, Columbia University Department of Philosophy

Legislative intent	237
GERALD C. MACCALLUM JR, University of Wisconsin Department of Philosophy
The obligation to obey the law	274
RICHARD A. WASSERSTROM, U.C.L.A. School of Law
BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTES	305